Colds on the Chest

Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician.

Ayer's

When you tell your doctor about the bad taste in your mouth, loss of appetite for breakfast, and frequent headaches, and when he sees your coated tongue, he will say, "You are bilious." Ayer's Pills work well in such cases.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Two restaurants at Mendon were consolidated by D. H. Cunningham selling out to Mrs. Emma I. Bills.

Wednesday while cutting wood John Good, Jr., of Fairland had the misfortune to nearly cut off one of his big toes.

The Democrat is responsible for the statement that a Salisbury man has a convenient case of rheumatism just bad enough to keep him from work, but not severe enough to keep him from going up town.

The Salisbury Democrat makes the claim that Judge Geo. T. Johnson of near Shannondale has the most valuable cow in the county. Wednesday morning of last week she gave birth to her seventh pair of twins, which undoubtedly breaks the record.

Died, at the home of her son, in northern Arkansas last Saturday, Mrs. Mollie Wright of Hale, of heart failure superinduced by rheumatism and la grippe. Deceased was 72 years old and was a faithful member of the Christian church. She had gone home with her son two weeks previous to her demise. Her remains were shipped back to Hale for interment.

John Slaughter Harper, a pioneer merchant of North Missouri, a resident of Livingston county for 70 years, and one of the few remaining genuine "gentlemen of the old school," died Friday at his home in Moersville. The funeral was under the auspices of Benevolence lodge 170, A. F. and A. M., established long before the war, of which Mr. Harper was the last surviving charter member.

The Carrollton Democrat says that Herman Belcher had not recovered from the excitement due to his recent marriage on Wednesday of last week. When passing the Berry place, north of Center Grove school, he noticed the house was on fire. He went in and got up on the roof and chopped a hole in it so he could see inside, then it was that he discovered that it was the flue burning out.

We learn from the Cunningham correspondent to the Sumner Star that a story and a half log house with a lean-to, known as the Stombaugh house, near Grand river, and occupied by Arthur Diehl who has been employed as a farm hand by the present owner, Oatha Williams, was burned to the ground Wednesday. The fire was caused by a defective flue. The contents were saved by the aid of several men who were working nearby.

We note in the Salisbury Press-Spectator that Bentley Heryford says he was standing at his door the other night when a crowd of darkies went by. One dropped out and approaching him said: "Mr. Heryford, you got a grindstone in your store?" Mr. Heryford said he had not, and asked the man what he wanted with a grindstone. "Well, I hear the colored people are going to have a dance in town to-night and I thought I'd sharpen my knife up a little," answered the son of Ham. Why send missionaries to darkest Africa? queries the Press-Spectator.

We see by the Press-Spectator that the Salisbury Savings bank of is planning extensive improvements which will add materially to its already fine equipment. The management has let the contract for an electric burglar alarm system, a steel-lined vault, no safe and new safety deposit vaults. Work was begun on these this week and everything will be installed by the middle of February. The officers of the Savings bank always keep abreast of the times in all things which concern the interests and convenience of their patrons.

Talk about bravery! What's the matter with the courage a young fellow musters up the first time he gets into the barber's chair?

The Tribune tells its readers that Frank Moritz, Sr., of near Triplett topped the market in St. Louis Friday with a car of hogs 65 head. They brought $4.45 and were his own raising. Mr. Moritz topped the market last fall with a bunch of yearlings.

The COURIER condoles with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Gibson of four miles east of Brunswick, who lost their 13-year-old daughter, Gertrude, of pneumonia Tuesday, January 28, 1908. She was a lovely girl, and her death was a sad blow to her parents. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Parvin of Brunswick at the family home Thursday morning, and interment took place at Elliott Grove cemetery.

The Republican-Record says that a number of years ago Isadore Zellars of Carrollton was injured while in the employ of the Water-works company. He sued the company for damages and obtained a judgment, but the case was appealed. The higher courts affirmed the judgment of the lower court, but by that time the company had failed. The company was bonded, however by a bond company, and when the bond company refused to pay, it was sued in turn by Mr. Zellars' attorney, James L. Minnis. The case has at last decided in favor of Mr. Zellars, and the damages and interest accumulated amounts to about $6,500. We congratulate Isadore on at last coming into his own.

The Democrat assures its readers that when Joe Smith, Salisbury's street commissioner turned a summersault and landed in his well Sunday he was not practicing a high dive with a view of traveling with a circus, nor attempting to commit suicide, but was just taking an enforced bath. While he was engaged in drawing water his feet slipped and down went Joseph to the bottom of the well. Luckily he lit on his feet instead of his head, or he may have met a watery grave. The children ran into the house to give the alarm, but before they returned with their mother, Joe had climbed out and gone into the house. When they looked in the well and failed to see any signs of Mr. Smith, they imagined he had gone down for the last time, and had begun to bewail his death, when their sorrow was turned to joy by his appearance on the scene in his suit of wringing wet clothes.

Bad Backache

Such agonies as some women suffer, every month, from backache! Is it necessary? No. It can be prevented and relieved, when caused by female trouble, by taking a medicine with specific, curative action, on the female organs and functions, which acts by relieving the congestion, stopping the pain and building the organs and functions up to a proper state of health. Try.

WINE OF CARDUI

"I suffered for 15 years," writes Mrs. Malinda A. Akers, of Basham, Va., "with various female troubles. I had such a backache that it drew me over, so I could not stand straight. The doctors could not help me, so I took Cardui, and now I feel like a new woman."

Greeting for 1908

I hope that 1908 may be the happiest as well as the most prosperous year of your life, and that your dealings with me may be pleasant as in the past. I will do my part to make such conditions possible.

To bring about conditions, let's start the new year right by settling up. I have all accounts made out from the least to the largest and please call and settle at once as my last year's books must be closed.

A whole lot of trouble would be avoided if people merely kept going straight ahead, instead of dodging around to see where the trouble is.

You can eat any food you like if your digestion is good, but you should be careful what you read. Take the COURIER and be on the safe side.

The reason people pay so little attention to your advice is because they think if it were valuable you would not be giving it away so freely.

The Brunswicker says that B. B. Davis of Keytesville, familiarly known as "Uncle" Burgess Davis, was a pleasant caller at that office Tuesday of last week. He was returning home from Fountain Grove where he had been attending a big meeting. He made the trip on foot, the manner in which he always travels, and Monday covered a good deal over 32 miles. And despite the fact that 77 seasons have turned his locks a snowy white, he moves around with the ease of a man of 40. He is indeed a young old man.

Our Language.

A young lady sings in our choir
Whose hair is the color of phoir,
But her charm is unique.
She has such a fair chique,
It is really a joy to be noir.
Whenever she looks down the aisle
She gives me a beautiful smile,
And of all of her beaux
I'm certain she sheaux
She likes me the best all the while.

Last Sunday she wore a new sacque,
Low cut at the front and the back,
And lovely bouquet
Worn in such a cute wuet
As only few girls have the knaque.
Some day, ere she grows too antique,
In marriage her hand I shall sique,
If she's not a coquette,
Which I'd greatly regrette
She shall share my $6 a wique.

Willie Bates, aged 13 years, was drowned Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock in the railroad pond at Slater. His sister, Miss Hattie, who is 16 years old, was with him and narrowly escaped drowning also. She and her brother were skating on the pond and ventured too near the center where the ice was thin. Miss Hattie was rescued by Arch Johnson after she had been in the water 30 minutes.

World's Smallest Odd Fellow.

James M. Burnett of Bristol Tenn., is the smallest Odd Fellow in the world. The diminutive Bristolian is a member of the Canton, the highest degree of Odd Fellowship, and for 10 years has been an active worker in Bristol lodge No. 7, where he has a number of positions. He is also believed to be the smallest mail carrier in the service of Uncle Sam being a rural carrier out of Bristol. Is 3 feet 7 1-2 inches in height and weighs 87 pounds. He is a member of a family dwarfs, his father being only one-half inch taller and weighing two pounds more. Out of a family of five there is not a difference of two inches in height or three pounds in weight.—Ex

We hear and read a good deal about the amount of whiskey and beer that is being daily shipped into Fulton. The anti-local option people seem to think this a great advertisement for their cause. On the other hand it will most assuredly convince all that prohibition prohibits, at least at Fulton. No liquor can be bought in Fulton. All of which convinces the fair-minded that the law can easily be enforced.—Mexico Ledger.

All Saline is "dry," the local option winning by a majority of over 900.
